Time flies when you're having fun and it's been a busy and fun summer so far at WOVV. Everyone at the station has been working hard and finally the long awaited on-line streaming is up and running!! Now, all of our off-island friends, family and members can tune into WOVV all day long via the internet. Go to WOVV.org to listen all day, every day. You can also view our complete programming schedule, check out our on air personalities and catch up with local events on the community calendar.

WOVV.org makes it easy to join our mailing list or become a member. Membership contributions are a HUGE part of our operating budget. We need your financial support to put Ocracoke Community Radio on the air everyday. Membership entitles you to discounts on WOVV events and merchandise. Or you can volunteer at the station and become a part of the working team at WOVV. Please take the time to join today by going to WOVV.org and click "join or contribute".

Also, our Third Annual Arm Wrestling Smackdown, held at Gaffer's on June 16, was a huge success making the station over $4000 in admissions, donations, and merchandise sales. We appreciate everyone coming out to support the station and helping us to make Ocracoke Community Radio a reality through your generous financial contributions. "Karm the Arm" successfully defended her championship title for the third year, going up against the likes of "The Mighty Hermaphrodite" and "The Black Swan." A huge round of applause goes out to all the women who participated, also Scott Bradley, Master of Ceremonies, and Charles Temple, Master of Brackets. Thanks for a great night of costumes, courage and daring!! Also a HUGE thanks to the folks at Gaffer's for helping to put the event together; Jenny Scarborough, our fundraising chairperson; and to the many members and volunteers who helped make it happen. We look forward to continuing to host and grow this event in the coming years.

Our station manager, Clayton Gaskill, and his troupe of trusty volunteers are keeping the station open to the public weekdays from 10am to 1pm, maybe more on some days. Stop in for t-shirts, hats, to become a member or just to visit.

And, as always, THANKS TO OUR GROWING LIST OF UNDERWRITERS, whose regular support keeps WOVV on the air and on line. We Love You!!
